

School360 is a learning platform that is used by over 1 800 schools around the country and is used by over 25000 pupils!

The system has a fun and engaging pupil interface. From this pupils can access a huge range of learning resources, such as the J2e computing resources and full access to the Britannica encyclopaedia. Pupils can check their own and teachers' timetables, have the use of a calendar and reminder system, as well as e-safety advice and reporting system.

In addition to this pupils are given a Google education account This account will give pupils a controlled email address, and with that full access to the Google apps (Google docs, sheets etc.).

One of the most useful features of this Google account is the Google drive which is a cloud storage facility that will allow pupils to access their school work from home and from school, on a huge variety of devices such as laptops, desktops (Mac and Windows), tablets and even smart phones! No software is required such as Microsoft Office as the pupils can use the Google apps.

The email address pupils are given is a ring fenced email facility and although it is a Gmail email account it ends with the suffix @school360.co.uk. Pupils will only be able to send and receive emails from other @school360.co.uk email addresses; all emails in the system are logged and can be retrieved by the local authority upon request. The main use of this email (apart from communication between pupils, their friends and their teachers) is an email address they can use to register for a number of online education products such as the programming platform Scratch.

This system has been recommended by the local authority and is used by some of our feeder First Schools, as well as the High School. This means pupils can take all their work with them from school to school, improving continuity, as well as showing the new school what the pupil has done in the past.
