Pandora Discovered

Opening

wonder, magic and mystery are three appropriate words to describe the wonderful land of Pandora. There is prodigious life on the planet yet to be discovered : and already there are so many fascinating creatures which are all unique. Pandora is a moon belonging to Polyphemus (a gas giant) No matter how beautiful Pandora is, there will always be unimaginable danger.

Animals

There are many, many fascinating creatures living on this secretive (secretive because there is still so much to learn) island. Most of them are hexapods-6 limbed animals. The jeopards Thanator is the most fearsome land animal to be known! A dangerous direhorse! They may look and sound like horses, but these two creatures don't have much in common except being used for hunting. The Na'vi (very similar, human-like figures) use direhorses for hunting on land and banshys for gliding through the air whilst hunting. You wouldn't want to bump into a pack of vicious viperwolves. Their razor-sharp teeth could and would easily tear your body apart, leaving only the bones for their young to chew apart, you don't stand a chance!

Na'vi

Na'vis are the closest living things to humans on Planet Pandora ; it is not possible for humans to live there as the atmosphere is toxic so we would die! They stand 9-10 feet tall and have sky blue bodies with long pointy ears and they have immense hearing. The light lines around their bodies are biolumcent lines as at night, wherever they travel, there can be seen neon trails along the ground. This is the same with any living organism. Quite magical when you see it! But unlucky if you are prey(the predators have an effortless job of catching them!)

Location:

From Earth's Southern Hemisphere, you can see a minute glance of misty colours! Located 4.4 light years away from our home, The Solar System that Pandora belongs to (Alpha Sentory) is distinguishable there. Pandora orbits around Polyphemus (a gas giant and the size of Saturn!)
